

Defaulting to Schottlander enigmalife⁺ Teeth

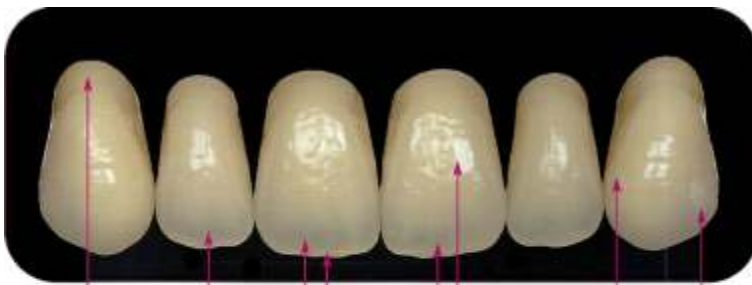

We have been using the new enigmaLife teeth for a few months now and I have to say we are impressed. They are more lifelike and adaptable compared to the old Enigma teeth.

Moulds are greatly improved and, with the colours closely matching the standard Vita shade guide, they are easier to match.

Schottlander are going to phase out the old Enigma over the coming 12 months, although they will keep stock for the foreseeable future. However, we are going to preempt this move by starting to use enigmaLife as the default from now on for all of our 'Ultimate' dentures and private work where Enigma has been chosen. Don't worry if you have a case you would particularly like the old Enigma teeth to be used on as we will still be keeping a stock of these for now. However, I think once you have tried the new enigmaLife you won't want to go back to the original Enigma.

Subtle darker necks like natural teeth
Internal structures of natural teeth
Blue/white opalescence and fluorescence
Surface characterisation provides natural reflections
Canines darker mesially, more translucent distally
Greater incisal translucency

Currently there are no shade guides available but as the new teeth do closely match the Vita shade guide you can use this for now. We have been promised the new shade guides shortly so if you would like one when they are available please let us know.
